Pipe Organ and Sanctuary Repairs

We met with the structural engineer this week who was sent here by our insurance carrier. He seemed to be in agreement with us concerning the storm damage to the tower and steeple and is in the process of writing a report, along with photographs, to support our claim. It may be a couple weeks before we hear back from this part of the process. Please continue to pray for fair and expeditious handling of this very necessary repair work.

New Programming:

The Wednesday 10am Bible Study Group is currently working their way through the book Turn My Mourning Into Dancing, by Henri Nouwen.

Theology at Five is studying the book: Peaceful Neighbor: Discovering the Countercultural Mister Rogers, by Michael Long.

Make plans to join one or both of these excellent studies!

March

Psalm 50:1

"The Lord, the only true God, has spoken. He has summoned the earth from where the sun rises to where it sets."

Our great Father in heaven cares intimately about and for us. About and for you! The God who spoke the world into existence is strong enough to lift our burdens and carry them away, no matter how heavy or complicated they seem to be. He can be trusted with the enormity of our life struggles. Join me in trusting Him today, in throwing our every concern, our greatest anxieties at His feet...and leaving them there.

In this month of renewal and springtime, will you turn over a new leaf and trust implicitly in our great God and loving Father?
